Dormont Free Little Library Hunt

One square mile. Twenty-something little libraries. Ten clues.

Dormont is under a square mile and packed with free book boxes, plus a few that aren't books at all. Your job is to find ten of them.

How to Play

- Work solo, in pairs, or in teams. Exploring is the whole point — the borough is small enough to do this on Porchmont Day!
- Photo proof. One picture per clue. Team member in the frame.
- The rule of the road: leave more than you take. Bring a bag of books, records, art, or mugs you'd have done with. Every box you hit, feel free to leave one of your items!
- Be a good neighbor. These are people's front lawns. Don't wander into yards that don't have Porchmont fun planned, don't knock, and please don't empty a box.
- Scoring is at the bottom if you want to make it competitive.

Bring: A tote of books, records, and a mug to donate, a little piece of art or art supplies, and a canned good.

How to win

Submit your photos and score sheet to amy.parkingpad@gmail.com between September 26 and October 3 to be entered into a drawing for a prize! All team scores will be tallied and winners will be selected at random from teams with a tie for the most points.

The Clues

1 The One You Can't Carry Home

I'm the mother of all libraries, and the only one with a roof you can stand under. Find me on West Liberty!

Find: The Dormont Library!

Extra credit: There's a donation bin for the food pantry just inside the front door. That canned good you brought goes in and it gets you +1 bonus point

Score

2 Take a Listen!

This one holds not novels at all. Dig the tunes. Look for grooves, look for tape, look for a jewel case.

Find: The little free music library — vinyl, CDs, and cassettes! Proof: Photograph one album inside! If nobody on your team recognizes the name, +1 bonus point!

Score

3 Take a Piece, Leave a Piece

Not a library. A gallery. Nothing here has words in it — or if it does, it's the point rather than the plot. Small enough to fit in a shoebox. Free enough to walk away with.

Find: The little free art gallery.

Proof: Take a photo of someone on your team with your favorite piece of art!

Score

4 The One That Needs Water

My inventory wilts. Cuttings, seedlings, sometimes a jar of cut flowers on a hot afternoon. Take what you'll actually keep alive.

Find: The little free plant stand.

Proof: Photo of someone on your team showing what's on offer that day!

Score

5 Movies Based on Books

100 years of movies right on Potomac, we were all relieved when the Hollywood Theater reopened!

Find: Any a book that has a movie based on it!

Proof: One combo photo of the library where you found it and a book from inside that has a movie based on it!

Score

Gone to the Dogs

6

Hiding in the dog park is our new little stick library built by the Girl Scouts!

Find: The stick library!

Proof: Photo of you with your favorite stick! Bonus +2 if you have a dog in your picture!

Score

7

Kid Stuff!

Children's books abound in Dormont free libraries!

Find: One your kids love and take a pic with it! Bonus if you can find one that you read and loved as a kid!

Proof: Photo of the book! Bonus +1 if an adult in your group loved it as a child.

Score

8

Mug for the Camera!

We all collect coffee mugs — intentionally or unintentionally!

Find: The little mug library.

Bonus +1 if you find one with someone's name (your name or someone else's name!)

Score

9

Mind the Tracks

Not a bus. Not a train, exactly.

Find: A little library within a 3-minute walk of a T station (Potomac or Dormont Junction).

Proof: Photo of the box. +1 if a trolley is visible in the shot. Do not stand on the tracks for this. Seriously.

More, more, more!

Find a box, a gallery, a stand, a swap — any free box in Dormont — that none of your clues sent you to!

Find: Any free-exchange spot in the borough that isn't on the hunt! Book box, seed swap, toy box, produce stand, puzzle exchange, whatever's out there.

Proof: Photo plus the cross streets. Worth 3 bonus. Bonus +2 points if it isn't on the map. Then do the useful thing: send it to Amy Constantine FB to add it to the map!
